

New technological agreement Akse - Progea

Akse is glad to announce the signing of a new technology cooperation agreement with Progea, a leading company in the Scada/HMI software solutions sector. The integration between the Energy Brain software, which retrieves the data from the Electrex instruments, and the supervising software of Progea, Movicon, provides new and wider applications to the users of Electrex monitoring solutions.